[NUMB. 1792.]

THURSDAY, JANUARY 18, 1770.

From the MIDDLESEX JOURNAL, Oct. 5.

To the E——l of H——b——h.

AS your L—d—p has hitherto devoted your attention chiefly to the laudable endeavour of riveting the chains of your own country, you may not, perhaps, have had leisure to enquire minutely into the characters of those, with whom you have now connected yourself, in the same views, on the liberties of this country, and of America. I will, therefore, furnish you with some leading traits in their genealogy, which will assist your judgment; and, my Lord, you are so young in the service here, that we must judge of your principles from those with whom you associate.

The first of these characters is the Earl of B—e, your patron and leader, under whose notorious banners you have listed in that honourable corps denominated Kings-men. The only principle of this body is that of supporting prerogative at all events. The constant aim of this faction for the c——n is, to remove or render ineffectual the constitutional limits set to the will of the K—: that is, to make the c——n arbitrary. A fitter head, than the Thane I have mentioned, for such a body, chance nor choice could not have discovered. Descended spuriously from a Scotish King, his predecessors have been ever distinguished as devoted instruments to arbitrary power; nor could the blood of Sir G——e M—k—e, Advocate for Scotland, and a second Jeffries, which flowed into him from his grand-mother, contaminate the original stream. If your L—d—p will therefore give yourself the trouble of enquiring, under whose countenance Jacobitism and Popery have lately raised their baneful head in North-Britain, you will find it to be under that of this L—d, his brother, and his secretary, who is of the rankest Popish family in Scotland. The second in this list of worthies, is one whom the public has had such infinite reason to venerate in the seat of j——e; L—d M——d. If any one should know who I mean, by saying he was some years since, arraigned for drinking the Pretender's health on his knees, I am not to blame; for, indeed, my Lord, I abhor the action, and most sincerely wish he had received the punishment it deserved. His oratory, it is true, shielded him from punishment, but your L—d—p's sagacity will discern, that eloquence, when it moves compassion, does not always extenuate guilt. His b——r James M——y, was less capable of disguising his principles; and, therefore, followed the Pretender's fortunes in the character of his secretary, and died in his service. L—d H——l will forgive me if I make him but the third in this illustrious catalogue, his merits are indeed second to none; but though he is now in the coach, by birth he is but one remove from the box. Far be it, therefore, from me to profane the sacred table of Scotch heraldry, he too owes his origin to North-Britain; but as his father was not higher than coachman to a Duke, 'tis not probable he was more than cousin to some noble family in Scotland. His progenitor filled that office in the service of the atrocious Duke of Lauderdale, whose memory is crimsoned over with the blood of his countrymen. The servant rose in his master's favour, probably, my Lord, by the same kind of faithful services with those by which a certain G——n has gained your Lordship's most cordial esteem, and the dignity of a Baronet of Great-Britain. I have been more particular in tracing the genealogy of this noble L—d, because you have the honour of being related to him by marriage, and he is your L—d—p's counsellor and friend.

These are the chief leaders in that right honourable band, from which this nation has so many blessings to expect, and in which many inferior characters, like your L—d—p, too numerous to be mentioned here, are arranged.

Could an almost total want of abilities have excluded you from among the tools of despotism, the odium of your character had not passed St. George's channel; you have now the melancholly prospect of spreading it over all the British dominions. To the contemplation of this prospect I will now leave you.

JUNIUS AMERICANUS.

DEVON PETITION.

To the Earl of H——n.

YOU have, indeed, my Lord, the faculty of blowing hot and cold with the same mouth; but why will you presume to make free with the name of your S——n, when your own memory does not immediately furnish you with a genteel refusal to an application. Did you not, my Lord, tell a military gentleman, who asked for one of the vacant governments, that his M——y had determined against appointing officers of the army to civil governments? This cannot be true, my Lord, for it is known even as far as Devonshire, that Lieut. Col. V——n, of the 46th regiment, is actually named for the government of West-Florida. The public must suppose this appointment, contrary, as you have said, to his M——'s determination, is made by you in return for the eminent services the Colonel's brother, Lord L——e, performed, in opposing the Musgrave petition.

A PETITIONER.

Mr. TIMOTHY,

AS the wise Creator has been provident in setting before us ample fields for improvement, and adapting suitable genius's to the different scenes that embellish human nature; as the learned politician, the industrious trader, the toiling mechanic, &c. who all in their different branches contribute to smooth the paths of life, and render it agreeably happy: Permit me, through the channel of your paper, to convey to the public, my sentiments of an improvement, which the nature of my employment has made me perfectly acquainted with; a new opening to commerce, of the greatest utility to this province. As it cannot fail of making our markets replete with every necessary at a cheap rate, and distribute its bounty to the community in general, I shall not, by a long prelude, keep the reader in suspence, but endeavour to open this arcanum of treasure in the following narrative.

The opening a communication from Santee to Cooper river, by a navigable cut, is very practicable to be performed, and will be productive of infinite advantage to the community. The truth of which can admit of no dispute; and the difficulty and expence attending it, is not such a stumbling block as at first may be imagined.

The interior parts of this province, not being fully known to many of the residents near Charles-Town, it will therefore be necessary to advance a moderate calculation of the additional trade, that might accrue on this occasion.—I have reckoned an hundred and twelve mill floats on the navigable waters of Santee river, above the cut, all situated near to the best of timber and rich lands: And supposing two saws to belong to each mill, sawing four hundred feet each per day, the total amount of the whole, for one day, will be eighty-nine thousand six hundred feet; most of which would be sent from thence to Charles-Town; besides immense quantities of indico, hemp, flax, tobacco, madder, &c. By which means we should see the waters of those rivers crowded with rafts and boats, loaded with articles of various kinds, producing necessaries for home consumption, and merchandizes for exportation, at an easy freight; which at present the settlers and proprietors on that river are deterred from improving, on account of their remote situation, and the length of a tedious land carriage; the expence of which amounts to at least thirty or forty per cent.

The objections that have been advanced against such an undertaking, are principally these:

Question. The distance and expence?

Answer. It is about twelve miles from navigable water to water; upwards of eight miles and an half of which, from Biggin bridge, it is only the clearing of a creek; and from thence, by cutting about half a mile through pine land, it would meet with a creek from Santee river.—Therefore, I cannot apprehend that the expence of the above cut, will be equal to the advantages of one year; and moreover, we have many instances of much greater undertakings being performed by individuals.

Question. Would not the cut affect the bar of Charles-Town?

Answer. I cannot think that any canal, which might render navigation easy, could in the least degree affect the bar: Even supposing the cut to be four feet deep, and thirty feet wide, and to run constantly full, it would not fresh the water between Charles-Town and Hobcaw point one human hair's breadth.—Yet, if any doubt arises, it may be prevented, by making a landing, as the cut must be through lime-stone, which is neither subject to wash away nor cave in. The creeks both ways might be cleared, leaving a sufficient landing, where store-houses may be erected, and answer the intentions without risque. For my part, I have not the least doubt, when the creek is cleared above Biggin bridge, but that the tide will flow four feet and an half perpendicular eight or nine miles up; for it is evident to reason, and founded on experience, that the tide will rise several feet above the horizontal plane of the sea coast, while it is continued in one common stream, which is lost when divided into many intricate and narrow windings: Besides, the simple construction of locks will supply the want of tides, and make small rivulets navigable. The many examples daily before us, make it unnecessary to quote them: Therefore, where I have erred in the foregoing, I humbly submit to be rectified. JAMES COOK.

ABOUT Twenty-six Tons of LOGWOOD, and Seven Thousand Feet of MAHOGANY in Logs, to be SOLD on board the Sloop RACHEL, at Mr. Moute's Wharf, by JOSEPH SEYMOUR.

Mr. TIMOTHY,

I Have observed in one of your late Gazettes, something to this import, viz. That the very learned, and what, I think, is more to his credit, the very worthy Dr. Witherspoon, President of the college of Prince-Town, in the Jerseys, has lately sollicited, and, you say, with much success, contributions in favour of that society—at present, most dependent. I am far, very far indeed, from envying his, or any other worthy clergyman's success, in matters of so momentous a concern; but what I chiefly admire, is the inference of old Timothy's, viz. That if Northward persons are so remarkably sanguine, with respect and regard to literature, I think that the gentlemen of South-Carolin ought to be ashamed to be outdone (since they are of ability, and great ability too) in a matter which they know, as well, and possibly better than I do, must contribute not only to the rising generation's temporal, but also to their eternal interest.

Before I go any farther, I am in gratitude bound (as a clergyman) to wish sincerely well, at least to those gentlemen and ladies, though unknown to them, who, you tell me in your Gazette, would subscribe, some five hundred pounds sterling, and others (according to ability) not under fifty sterling.—I remember well, Sir, that a cup of cold water only, in the name of a disciple, cannot, shall not, lose its reward.

I will only add (because I despise prolixity) that the gentlemen and ladies of the South government, who are really of ability, cannot, in my poor opinion (though it is matter of private opinion only) do a better, or a more generous, durable thing, than to encourage (and able they are to do it) a decent COLLEGE incorporated in CHARLES-TOWN: And, if I mistake not his Majesty much, he would be the first person in the world to ratify so extensively useful an expedient.

I am, with respect, &c. SIR,

CHARLES-TOWN, JANUARY 18.

LAST Friday Dougal Campbell, Esq; Clerk of the Crown and Pleas, and Mr. Joshua Hart, returned from the Northern Colonies.

In the List of Officers of the Charles-Town Library Society, inserted in our last, was omitted, by Accident, the Re-election of John Colcock, Esq; Secretary and Correspondent.

This Day Mr. Whitaker, one of our Pilots, spoke with the Brigantine Juno, 8 Weeks out from Glasgow, bound for Cape-Fear, all well on board.

By late Intelligence from London, we have great Reason to believe, that the Royal Approbation will be obtained, to the Circuit-Court Act passed here the 22d Day of July last.

From the General Gazette of Yesterday. "The Rev. John-Frederick Lucius, a Minister of the Church of England, ordained to that sacred Office in November last, by the Bishop of London, arrived here last Week, being appointed, by the Society for propagating the Gospel, their Missionary to the German Protestants settled at Londonborough, with a Salary of Seventy Pounds Sterling a Year. These poor People having been deluded over to England by one of their own Countrymen, and in Distress, were relieved by British Humanity, and sent to this Province, by a Committee in London appointed for that Purpose. They met with the same kind Treatment here, are now in a very thriving Way, and will no Doubt retain the utmost Gratitude to their Benefactors."

Last Tuesday se'nnight Mr. William Carsan, of this Town, Merchant, was married Miss Rebecca Lloyd, only Daughter of the late Capt. John Lloyd, who was some Years Commander of Fort Johnston.

On Monday last Mr. Samuel Green, of Hilton-Head, was married to Miss Susanna Chanler, youngest Daughter of the Rev. Isaac Chanler, deceased.

On the Instant, Mr. John Matthews, (Son of James) was married to Miss Sarah Scott, Daughter of Col. John Scott, of Boston in New-England.

"On Saturday the 3d of December died at Pensacola, in the 30th Year of his Age, Mr. JAMES ROSS, who having been for some Time engaged in Trade, after various Turns of Fortune, settled in West-Florida about the Year 1764. As he had been bred to the Law, his Practice in the Courts of that Province was of the utmost Service to the Inhabitants, particularly to such as were oppressed by the litigious Suits so frequently carried on in that young Colony. Whether at the Bar he pleaded the Cause of the Injured, or in the Provincial Assembly pointed out the Public Good, he was always a warm and a most disinterested Advocate. His Friendship was zealous and sincere, and on every Occasion he may truly be said to have been an HONEST MAN. His Death is therefore justly lamented as a Public Loss. —Multis, nam Ille, flebilis, occidit."

On Monday last the Court of General Sessions of the Peace Oyer and Terminer, Assize and General Goal Delivery, began to be holden here, in the usual manner.

The Quantity of Indico exported for Great-Britain, since the 1st of November last, is no less than 310,955 lb of which 144,368 lb is now on board the Carolina Packet, Capt. White: The same Ship has on board, 3 Boxes of Carolina raw Silk, containing 239 lb and ½, and 635 Barrels of Rice.—In the same Time 1,794 lb of Indico have been shipped to other Colonies; and 38,000 lb of Hemp: No Hemp for Europe.—For Europe, 41 Hogsheads of Tobacco; and 12 Hogsheads 2 Tierces and 20 Barrels, for New-York.

RICE exported from Charles-Town, since the First of November, 1769.

To Great-Britain,	—	8,992½ Barrels.
Portugal,	—	14,367
Spain,	—	2,168
The West Indies,	—	6,886
Ports on this Continent,	—	941
Total	—	33,294½ Barrels.

THE South Part of the Subscriber's Wharf is now fit for Business: Coasting Scooners and inland Boats (of any Size) may now unload there full as commodiously and safely, and with as great Dispatch, as in any Dock in Town.—He has Stores already built, that will contain about Fifteen Hundred Barrels of Rice, and is about building more.

He will be much obliged to such Persons as will order their Produce to be landed at his Wharf; where, whenever they are inclinable to store their Rice, Indico, &c. they will be as safe from all Dangers, particularly from Fire, as in any Store in the Province.—He will be particularly attentive to give their Boats the utmost Dispatch; and as he is sure the Produce of the Province can be disposed of, at his Wharf, to as much Advantage as any where else, such of his Friends as will send whatever Rice, Indico, or naval Stores, they order to be landed at his Wharf, to him, he will sell those Articles for them, at the usual Rates. He will make no Charge this Crop for any Rice stored in his Stores, belonging to the Planters, not exceeding one Week, nor belonging to the Merchants, for that Time, provided it is shipped off at his Wharf.

CHRISTOPHER GADSDEN.

N.B. There is no Wharf in Town, where the Ships can lay more secure, or where their Cables will be so little liable to Damage: And such Ships as land their Ballast at his Wharf, this Crop, shall be charged no Wharfage; be assisted to put it out, and have their Water Casks filled with as good Water as any to be got in or near Town besides, GRATIS. Not a Wharf in Town better (if so well) calculated for dispatching a Vessel, or where there is so little Occasion for Porters to roll Rice, &c.—Indeed, that Charge may be altogether saved, or at most can cost the Gentlemen in Trade but a mere Trifle.

To be SOLD,
By SIMON TUFTS,
